

Transcription:

Beef Farm - Cattle - Feeding

Cattle need to be fed the right diet so that they grow and eventually produce meat. Their feed is made up of straw, barley, silage and dark grains (dark grains are a by-product from whisky distilleries). It is important that the cattle get the correct amount of protein so that they grow and produce meat. The cattle are weighed regularly to check they are putting on weight.