

Transcription:

Beef Farm - Cattle - Identification

Every calf born has its own passport. This tells us where it was born, who its parents were and its breed. Cattle also have tags put in their ears with numbers which are the same as those on their passport. This is important so we can trace where meat has come from.